

Volunteer Title: In-Class Spanish GED Tutor for Math, Spanish, Science and/or Social Studies

Non-profit Overview: The Latino Academy of Workforce Development (LAWD) is a part of the Vera Court Neighborhood Center, Inc. (Vera Court Inc.) non-profit agency, which also includes the Vera Court Neighborhood Center and Bridge Lake Point Waunona Neighborhood Center. More about the Vera Court Inc. agency's programming and services can be found at www.veracourt.org/agency.

LAWD began as a small program at Vera Court Neighborhood Center in 2010 in order to best serve the education and workforce needs of our community's Latino adults. Since then, the program has grown into an organization with a $400K budget and 14 staff and instructors reaching hundreds of Latinos each year across all of south central Wisconsin. LAWD's programming aims to provide Latinos with the credentials, training, and case management necessary to obtain fulfilling, family-sustaining careers.

Position Overview: This volunteer will provide in-class assistance to Spanish GED students. This is an ideal opportunity for Spanish-speaking individuals who are proficient in math, Spanish, science, or social studies. You can make a big difference by giving GED students the extra help they need to graduate. Content that will be reviewed is high school level. The sessions are listed below. Please indicate on your application which session(s) you are applying for.

Spring (January – May): Math

Summer (June – August): Spanish

Fall (September – December): Science and Social Studies
